

State Series MTBO Rules

These are the rules for the State Series competition for MTBO in Queensland. There will be a number of event stages that attract SS points throughout the year. A rider's best 5 scores (stage results) will count towards their final points total. Any individual stage (race) in the QLD Championships or any other multi-day SS event will attract points.

At each SS event stage, there will be 5 courses offered (refer below). To be eligible for SS points a competitor will need to ride in one of the age based categories listed below. A competitor may ride any course they wish, but to be eligible for SS points, they must enter a category, which aligns with their age.

A competitor can enter a harder course and will earn SS points, but will not be able to transfer those points to another category. A competitor needs to enter the same category at each event, in order to have the best chance of an award. The age category is determined by the competitor's age at 31 December. Where competitors ride in pairs or groups, they will be considered as social riders only. Interstate residents are eligible for points but not awards.

Awards for overall winners in each of the following classes:-

M14, M16, M20, M21, M40, M50, M60, M70, W14, W16, W20, W21, W40, W50, W60, W70, WOL

- The best 5 stage results in a category count towards a competitors' final score
- Each stage at multi day events will attract individual SS points
- Competitors must record a valid time in a stage to earn SS points
- Competitors must enter a category that matches their gender to be eligible for SS points
- Competitors from interstate are eligible for SS awards
- Novice/Family/Recreational/Score/Scatter classes do not earn points.

Points Calculation Method

Scores are assigned based on the competitors' times relative to the winning time. 1000 points for the winner. 5 points are deducted for each percent a rider is behind the winners' time.

Points will be published in Eventor with the results of each event. Awards in each age category will be given at the final event for the year.
